CATIC RELEASES NEW WEBSITE

CATIC is pleased to announce the launch of our new website. The new site shows our dedication to ensuring the most contemporary user experience; it allows our agents to have a more consistent workflow and allows for better navigation on the new and improved site.

Our new website offers the latest search integration platform that allows for responsive searches, where users can see popular suggestions on specific search terms. Ordering endorsements, flood zone certifications, and lien releases has never been this easy. The new quick links functionality has improved how agents traverse the website, offering an efficient way to acquire helpful resources. “We want to provide our key users with a memorable and interactive experience, and that is why we worked so hard to deliver a captivating, fully functional website. The necessary information is front and center, allowing our end users to acquire the information they need, whether that may be an Agent, Realtor, Lender or Home Buyer,” said Jim Czapiga, Esq., President and CEO, CATIC.

The new website is mobile friendly, with responsive webpages that will adjust to either phone or tablet devices. CATIC believes that technology plays a vital role in how we connect with our customers, and with that in mind, we made our website more reliable, secure and simple.
